Dear Mr. Weisberg

My daughter purchased for my birthday, your first "Whitewash" and "Post Mortem". Having read them (twice), am interested in purchasing "Photographic Whitewash: Suppressed Kennedy Assassination Pictures" and "Oswald in New Orleans". Please send me the necessary information in the included self addressed stamped envelope.

Your books are beyond enlightenment! They are an experience in conversion. I am now determined to do something, as a concerned citizen, to help reverse this destructive course we are on. What, is uncertain. There must be a group, or groups to join with.

Your style of writing is very unique. Each sentence holds so much. At first it is frustrating to try and comprehend everything in them. But after several hours of reading, the frustration gives way to something higher; thinking for yourself! Studying, analyzing, researching, and cross referencing. Something we have forgotten!

I purchased the "Warren commission Report" (St. Martins Press) and refuse to buy the expensive hard bound version of "Case Closed" and am instead using "U.S. News and World Report" august-September '93. I have, and read your "Case Open".

I am a Vietnam Veteran whose military occupation was that of a helicopter mechanic. But because of necessity and my upbringing, I volunteered some of my time as a door gunner and saw some combat. a war hero I am not. But I know the sting of battle in defense of what was thought our nations freedom. No regrets! We were lied to though, and conned into what we thought was a "holy war" by the type of people in our government after the Kennedy assassination and who are still in apparent control.

Our nation is in need, desperately, of true modern day heros and leadership. With few reservations John Kennedy was one.

Without reservation, Mr. Weisberg, you too, are one. "The pen is mightier" than the sword!" I have used both. But you sir wield your pen like a mighty sword!!

Hopefully we can have some kind of periodic correspondence. Your courage and direction is needed and will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Jim Zaccaro

P.S. Thank you to L. Weisberg, who assumedly is Mrs. Weisberg, who sent along a personal note with the two books my daughter purchased. You sound like an inseperable part of Mr. Weisberg! God Bless.
